When the reading of the reports was concluded the convention adjourned, to meet at 10 o'clock this morning. The sessions will continue for four days, and will be held daily from 10 to 4 o'clock.

It is expected that to-day's session will be devoted to discussing the leading topics included in the report of the executive council. At the meeting of the executive council held last night Mr. Hill was re-elected screetary and treasurer of the council, and his salary fixed at $500 per annum. The question of fixing the time and place for holding the mid-summer session of the council was left to the discretion of the chairman.

THE HOMEOPATH HOSPITAL

Formal Opening of That Institution Yesterday With Pleasant Ceremonies.

Address of the Special Committee on the Purposes of the Hospital.

The Washington Homeopathic hospital was formally opened yesterday afternoon in the large and commedious building. No. 1106 F street northwest, recently rented for the purpose. A meeting of the hospital association was held in the large front room. The president, Mr. A. S. Pratt, presided. The action of the committee in leasing the building was confirmed, and it was decided to furrish the wards and rooms at an early day. The association also decided to open a homeopathic dispensary on the first floor. The election of a medical staff was deferred until the next meeting. Free wards will be established for the poor (adults and children), also the next meeting. Free wards will be established for the neor cadults and children), also pay wards. A large majority of the homeopathic physiciaus in this city were present.

After a lunch had been served a ladies' meeting was held. Mrs. Alexander Kent presided. A sommittee was appointed to perfect arrangements for a house warming, or "high tea" and donation party, Friday, Feb. 1, beginning at 4 o'clock p. m., at the hospital building. Another committee was appointed to remain the building every day from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. for the purpose of receiving contributions for hospital purposes. An experienced lady matron is expected next week from Philadelphia.

The ladies' committee consists of Mrs. Alexander Kent, Mrs. Dr. Pope, Mrs. Dr. Sterns, Mrs. Dr. Herron, Mrs. Lewis Clephane, Mrs. J. O. Clephane, Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. I. W. Tyler, Mrs. A. L. Barber, Mrs. C. S. Wescott, Mrs. Charles Nordhoff, Mrs. W. L. Vanderlip, Mrs. N. J. Walker, Mrs. William Bichards, and Mrs. J. S. Bolway. The trustees of the hospital are Messrs. A. S. Pratt, president: Lewis Clephane, vice president; Miss. Isabel Lenman, second vice president; Mrs. C. G. Gilbert, secretary; Mr. H. D. Cooke, treasurer, and Messrs. A. W. Wyman, United States treasurer; L. Z. Lighter, W. S. Roose, Dr. C. P. Culver, E. C. Cutter, Mrs. Alexander Kent, Mrs. A. L. Barber, and Mrs. William Birnoy. The building has twenty rooms, and is capacious, well lighted, and perfectly ventilated. The dispensary and reception rooms will be located on the first floor.

A special committee, consisting of Dr. Verdi and Mr. A. S. Pratt, made the following report:

"Our Washington people seem inexhaustible in their work of charity. A city where the world, the flesh, and the devil seem to be irrepressible, it is gratifying and consoling to know that under that exhibition of worldly vanity there exists a motive power of good will which rises above all selfish consideration.

"Two years ago a few adherents of the homeopathic practice of medicine met and resolved to open a homeopathic hospital, where the poor could get the benefit of a system the choice of which seemed only the privilege of the rich. They organized, and in less than twelve months, while waiting, they opened a free dispensary to the public which in a short time filled with the sick asking for the beneficent treatment. This realization of their anticipations stimulated the homeopaths to greater exertious, until they found enough encouragement and practical assistance to open the hospital. They west, where yesterday they gave a lunch for good fellowship and the consideration of important business connected with the hospital. The house was filled with the clite of Washington, and the pleasant intercourse of those present showed that they were more than portant business connected with the hospital. The house was filled with the clite of Washington, and the plousant intercourse of those present showed that they were more than satisfied with their success.

"The hospital is to have free and paying patients. The building is selected with a view to its sanitary condition and its commodity. There the poor and those able to pay, when sick, will find a home, good nursing, and gentle treatment. Its lady managers are women of intelligence and energy, and will see to it that every comfort is given the sick, and the rigid cleanliness and sanitary practice demanded by the homeopathic faculty will be a source of delight to the denizens of that building.

"The presidency, lately vacated by the much lamented Montgomery Blair, who was one of the pioneers in this work, is now filled by that carnest and indefatigable philanthropist, Adam S. Pratt. That the good work may go on, the ladies at this meeting voted for a "house warming," to be held on the first day of February, on which occasion the contributions of the humanists, from money down to a towel, will be gladly received. The house warming will consist of dancing

The house warming will consist of dancing and refreshments.

Let us welcome this humane institution as one of our own. It is a field on which all can agree, for it has no personal interest to serve. Like Christians they will meet to serve God, the God of love. This institution bears no sectarianism; it is conceived by these who contribute to all good works, whether Catholic or Protestant, allopathic or homeographic. homeopathic.

"Donations will be received at the hospital building from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m."

A Startling Contrast.

Look on this picture: At 10:30 a. m. yesterday a lady residing in the block on the northeast corner of H and Tenth streets, deposited in the box on that corner a letter addressed to an acquaintance corner a letter addressed to an acquaintance in a somewhat remote part of the city. The letter requested the person addressed to call at the writer's house on the following morning, if received in time. After depositing the letter the lady's engagements kept her from home until about 1 o'clock p. m., when she returned to her residence to find that her letter had gone on its errand, been received, and in response to her request, the person addressed had already called, left a message, and departed. and departed.

And then on this:
Mrs. Carlisle and the ladies associated with her in arranging for the pound party for the benefit of the poor of the district, to be given at the Riggs house to-morrow evening, enter a strong complaint against the city postofice. It appears that several hundred invitations have been mailed by the ladies to senators, members of congress, and prominent citizens generally. In many cases these were not de-livered at all, and others the invitations were removed, and only the empty envelopes delivered. All this has embarrassed the efof the ladies in charge and deserves prompt attention.

The Wisconsin Republicans. The Wisconsin republican association met at St. George's hall, 510 Eleventh street

Entwisle, the druggist, corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue, who has been an invalid for several years, has improved so much in health as to be able has improved so much in health as to be able to visit the store and superintend business on sunny days. Mr. Entwisle is one of the old-est and most experienced druggists in Wash-ington, and his establishment one of the in-stitutions of the district.

News from Clarence Barton.

A private and personal letter from the missing Clarence M. Barton was received by a friend in this city a day or two ago. In the letter, which bears neither date nor post mark, but which was evidently sent from some point at nevery great distance from Washington, Barton enters a specific and vigorous denial of the story that he shipped vigorous denial of the story that he shipped from New Orleans or any other port for Havana with a female companion, or any other companion. He says that only one person in Washington knows his whereabouts, but for the sake of his family he wants it known that he did not go away from home with a woman, and that he is alone in his self-imposed exile.

The Tuesday Club Medal,

Annapolis, Jan. 23.—A communication has been received by President Leavitt, of St. John's college, Annapolis, from the British museum, London, asking for information in museum, London, asking for information in regard to a medal in their possession struck in the year 1746 for the Tuesday club, of Annapolis, giving a description of the medal. This is one of the medals struck for the club in London and which was worn by the members on occasions of ceremony. One of the medals is in possession of the Maryland Historical society, as well as the greater part of the "Records of possession of the Maryland Historical society, as well as the greater part of the "Records of the Tuesday Club," in manuscript volumes, quaintly illustrated with portraits of the members and notable events in the history of the club. The records display a very humorous view, both in poetry and prose, and mingle learning with wit to a great extent, and present a vivid picture of the convival and mirthful life of our colonial ancestors, showing Ammpolis as the loyal city of Queen Anne. The museum offers to present to the college an electrotype copy of the medal, and the president of the college has forwarded a suitable roply to the museum.

Telegraphic Messages Not Confidential. CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—During the trial of James H. Melville for alleged embezziement in the criminal court before Judga Hawes yesterday the prosecution desired to prove that part of the money was sent to Melville through the Westera Union Telegraph com-pany. The money order clerk of the tele-graph company declined to produce the mesgraph company declined to produce the mes-sage on the ground that messages could not be made public property. The court ruled that telegraph communications could not be con-sidered more confidential than any others, and that no communication could be excluded when the cause of justice ronders its production necessary. The company then produced the message.

The Maybee Murder Case. JAMAICA, L. I., Jan. 23.—The examination of Edmund S. Tappan, who is held on his own confession of participation in the murders of Mrs. and Miss Maybee, at Brookville, on Nov. Mrs, and Miss Maybee, at Brookville, on Nov. 17 last, was further postponed at the request of the prisoner until 10 o'clock Monday morning. Tappan has entirely recovered from his indisposition. He does not waver in the confessions he has made. The detectives have so fur failed to obtain the Mayboe jewelry from Edmund Tappan's wife. She will probably be arrested to-morrow.

Pleads Guilty of Manslaughter. CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 23.—In the Camden county court to day the case of Brasier Bar-tholomew Highlew, for the murder of Jonas

Cross, was resumed, but was immediately brought to an abrupt termination by the retraction of the plea of not guilty and the entering of a plea of manslaughter. Assistant Prosecutor Jenkins consented, and the court permitted the plea. Next Friday is set down for sentence.

Wiggins Snowed Up. Kingston, Ont., Jan. 23.—The snow blockade prevented the sending of provisions into the Kingston timber district, and the lumbering shanties will probably be closed in consequence. D. G. Wiggins, of the Beth-lehem Iron company, is snowed in at the iron mines, and the residents there think he is Wiggins, the weather prophet, and refuse to shovel a patch out for him.

Death of Mr. John T. Ford's Mother. BALTIMORE, Jan. 23 .- Mrs. Anna Ford, aged 83, mother of Mr. John T. Ford, of Ford's grand opera house, died at her residence in this city to-day.
